BIO

Premanition (she/her), is an independent Bangladeshi Canadian electropop singer, producer, writer, visual artist, voice over actor, and engineer. Her new single, "Heaven" (released February 25, 2022), is a modern day siren song; the entry into a dark fairytale, with heavy vocal layers and moody synthesizers. For this new era, she draws inspiration from an eclectic collection of artists; ranging from the haunting vocals of Evanescence to the pop melodies of Lights.

Now, she is working on her most ambitious project yet, a full length electropop concept album with a corresponding novel about finding love, grief, and fighting for what you stand for. This mixed media story will unfold in a series of music videos, songs, poems and photographs over this year. Premanition is a storyteller by nature and this project will be the culmination of her passion and skill.
